Jessica Hansen Named “Make a Difference” Award Recipient

Each year, the Macomb Intermediate School District Parent Advisory Committee presents a “Make a Difference” Award to an outstanding special education teacher who is nominated by a parent or parents in their district.

This year, Jessica Hansen, Special Education Teacher at Roseville High School was chosen to receive the 2018-2019 “Make a Difference” Award.

Jessica is a proud Roseville alumna, going above and beyond to make a difference in the Roseville community. She has served as a teacher of students with emotional impairments, a teacher consultant, a multi-sport coach, and a Student Assembly co-sponsor. Jessica has a strong relationship with her students, their families, fellow staff, and community members. Her students know her as a caring and compassionate teacher, even when she is being tough. Teaching her students to advocate for themselves, she works diligently to make sure they are prepared for life after high school. Jessica “makes a difference” every day.

The Roseville Community Schools Board of Education and Central Administration would like to congratulate Jessica for her commitment to her students, and thank her for being a valued team member of the Roseville Community Schools.
